

Tiffany Alastanos

Biography

Tiffany Alastanos is a dance teacher, junior dance company director, and sponsor for the National Junior Honor Society in Dance Arts at A Mario Loiederman Middle School for the Creative and Performing Arts in Silver Spring, MD. She holds a BFA in Dance from Ohio University and an MA in teaching from University of Maryland Baltimore County. She is a fully certified Pilates instructor through Power Pilates receiving the majority of her training in Chicago, IL. Ms. Alastanos has served as choreographer and coordinator for the All County Dance Ensemble in Montgomery County.

Statement of interest and intent

I am interested in serving on the MDEA Board of Directors to continue growing my leadership as a dance educator and to work with other great leaders in the state of Maryland to bring the best professional development and support to the teachers in our state. I have attended several MDEA conferences and workshops in the past, and have presented at the conferences as well. I started the NJHSDA at my middle school so I know the process to begin and run an honor society. As the NHSDA liason understudy, I will help teachers with ideas to start and run their own honor societies so that our dance students can get the recognition they deserve on par with other arts and academic subjects.